Social and Behavioral Science Core Elective (A.1)

Classes listed below fulfill the SBSC Core Elective Requirement. Note: the course you choose cannot count as fulfilling both the SBSC Core Elective Requirement (A.1) and the Concentration and Elective requirement (A.3). So, for instance, students concentrating in Psychology must count ACPSY 201 as fulfilling part of their Concentration and Elective requirement and choose a different class from this list to fulfill their SBSC Core Elective Requirement.

- ACECO 201 Microeconomics
- ACECO 202 Macroeconomics
- ACPOL 101 American Government
- ACPOL 202 International Relations
- ACPOL 205 Power, Rap Music, & Urban America
- ACPSY 201 General Psychology

Notes:

Students who pursue the Pre-Education pathway at Arrupe will earn an A.A. in Liberal Arts. In addition to coursework at Arrupe, they take TLSC courses through the school of education.

Students who successfully complete this associate's degree at Arrupe may pursue the 2 year + 2 year degree pathway to earn a bachelor's degree in bilingual education from the School of Education.
